SCHOOL REPORT.

The past year has probably been one of average prosperity and progress, considering the length of our schools; but our terms have been universally short, because of a lack of funds.

We wish to call the attention of the town to the present condition of our schools, for truth compels us to say that they are not properly educating our children.

Among the districts lying wholly in this town, only three had over twenty weeks of school during the past year, while one had only nine weeks; another, but twelve, and a third only thirteen and two-tenths weeks of school for the whole year.

At least ninety per cent of our scholars never attend school outside their own districts, and a part of the older ones only attend one term a year; so it is plain that the time our children spend in school before the age of fifteen is brief.

Two-thirds of our teachers work for an average of less than three dollars per week and board, and it is not practicable to increase this much under present circumstances. While working for the pay received by a good house-work girl, whose education costs her nothing, it is not to be expected that our young teachers will acquire that thoroughness and breadth of knowledge which is absolutely essential to the best work in the school-room. We cannot expect first-class teachers without proportionate pay.

It is out of the question to properly support our schools while they have so few scholars, and so little money behind them as at present, and there seems to be but one way to remedy the state of things.

Less than two-thirds the present number of schools would be ample for the needs of the town, and could be supported in such a way as to give our scholars an education very much better adapted to the demands of after life. The conditions existing when the present school system was adopted are entirely changed. Our population has decreased, our property depreciated, and we need to recognize these facts, and reörganize the schools on some plan fitted for the present state of things. Such a reörganization, properly made, would result not only in a better education, but in increasing the value of our property and the prosperity of our town.

No change has been made in text-books during the year, except the introduction of a physiology, as required by a recent act of the legislature.

We desire to thank the people of the town, as well as the teachers and scholars of our schools, for the kindness shown us in the discharge of our duties.

We append a report by districts, as usual, and would ask special attention to the number of scholars, amount of money, and length of school in each district, believing that therein will be found ample reason for the criticisms just made. The amount of money given includes all that each district receives, both school tax and literary fund.

DISTRICT NO. 1.

As usual, this school has been under the care of the Amherst Board of Education. In response to a letter of inquiry, we learn that the number of scholars from this town has averaged about three and one-half. There were three terms of school with a total length of thirty weeks, each term being visited at least twice by one or more members of the board of education. They report a successful school under good teachers. Amount of money paid from this town, $30.73.

DISTRICT NO. 2.

Prudential committee, Ira Christie. Amount of money, $76.93. Summer term, 10 weeks, 8 scholars; winter term, 8 weeks, 6 scholars.

The teacher of the summer term, who has been here about three years, did work of the best sort. We were sorry to have her leave the place, but found that her successor of the winter term held the school well up to its previous high standard. This is a very pleasant sch ool somewhat advanced, and has been much benefited by, the steady work of one teacher for so long a time.

DISTRICT NO. 3.

Prudential committee, Silas H. Hadlock. Amount of money, $44.08. Summer term, 9 weeks, 5 scholars.

We found here a teacher of excellent educational qualifications, and an earnestness that seemed to enter into every effort. Improvement was good, particularly in reading. Singing, at examination, showed voices among the scholars which ought to be cultivated.

DISTRICT NO. 4.

Prudential committee, Henry Kelso. Amount of money, $101.04. Summer term, 8 weeks, 8 scholars; winter term, 12 weeks, 7 scholars.

This was a young teacher's first attempt. Considering this fact, the summer school made, on the whole, good improvement. A class in physiology showed more knowledge of the subject than any similar class in town.

The winter examination revealed a marked improvement in methods of work, which, if continued, would point to a future of usefulness for this teacher.

DISTRICT NO. 5.

Prudential committee, Geo. A. Prince. Amount of money, $66.37. Summer term, 8 weeks, 15 scholars; winter term, 10 weeks, 16 scholars.

The entire year was marked by good progress in this school, which contains a great deal of ability. The teacher of the first term is well known to us, and deservedly ranks high, while her successor possessed a happy combination of those qualities requisite for success. She received a handsome present from her scholars at examination. Some fine rhetoricals were heard here, and the roll of honor is one of our best.

DISTRICT NO. 6.

Prudential committee, Nathan Gage. Amount of money, $64.03. Summer term, 7 weeks, 11 scholars; winter term, 8 weeks, 16 scholars.

During the first term the school was composed of small scholars, who were taught with motherly care by an experienced teacher.

The school for the second term was larger and made up of older scholars, a number coming from outside this town. Under an earnest teacher good progress was made, and, as the term was extended two weeks by private subscription, it must have been satisfactory to those most concerned.

DISTRICT NO. 7.

Prudential committee, Hiram L. Wilson. Amount of money, $63.84. Summer term, 5 weeks, 5 scholars; winter term, 10 weeks, 8 scholars.

Both terms were under the care of one of our most experienced teachers, and showed good improvement. Scholars from out of town added to the size and interest of the winter school. The winter term here, as in No. 6, was extended two weeks by private subscription.

DISTRICT NO. 8.

Prudential committee, J. P. Briggs. Amount of money, $462.94. Summer term, 10 weeks, — Grammar, 22 scholars; Primary, 21 scholars. Fall term, 9 weeks, — Grammar, 25 scholars; Primary, 24 scholars. Winter term, 8 weeks, — Grammar, 25 scholars; Primary, 21 scholars.

In the Primary Department the teacher of last year continued her work, and, having at the start a full knowledge of the school, went forward without delay. Great progress has been made in all studies, while the careful training in behavior and orderly methods of work, together with the general mental development aimed at by the teacher, are an inestimable advantage to the school. We hope this teacher may be retained.

In the Grammar Department, also, the year began under our former teacher, and the summer term was a continuation of last year's work, showing the same thorough, careful training. Rarely do we see greater harmony between teacher and scholars. Returning in the fall after a severe sickness, the teacher's strength proved unequal to all that she wished to do, though we found good progress in all departments. To the sorrow of parents and scholars alike, failing health forced the teacher to leave us at the close of this term, after five terms of work rarely equaled in their results. Her successor of the winter was a member of our State Normal School, and a teacher of experience, who possessed excellent methods combined with an entire devotion to the work in hand. After a change of teachers in a school like this, it takes some time to get everything into running order again, and, as the term was short, it left but little time for effective work. The school received some additions to its membership, which, we are sorry to be obliged to say, proved a source of annoyance, greatly impeding the work of the term. We do not feel that the teacher was in any way responsible for this, but wish to heartily commend her patience, firmness, and energy. At examination we found a remarkable degree of improvement, while the work done was thorough, and in every way excellent.

We never saw these two schools appear better than at the last examination, and believe that one of this year's teachers ought to be retained in this room. There is a great deal of ability in this school, and, in the main, it is a very pleasant one. Parents here need to do all in their power to uphold the discipline of the school, else its usefulness may be greatly impaired.

DISTRICT NO. 9.

Prudential committee, B. F. Baker. Amount of money, $80.30. Summer term, 8 weeks, 19 scholars; fall term, 7 weeks, 17 scholars; winter term, 9 weeks, 17 scholars.

During the summer this school had a teacher of experience and ability, who did excellent work and gave universal satisfaction.

The teacher of the fall term lacked experience, but, considering the demands that this school makes on a teacher, most of the classes appeared well.

The winter examination showed a good knowledge of studies in most branches. It was a young teacher's first term, but showed, on his part, many points of excellence as an instructor, and gave the promise of wide usefulness in future. This school is one of the hardest in town as to amount of work required, there being, of necessity, many classes including scholars of greatly differing ages, while the crowded condition of the school-room renders it difficult, if not impossible, to keep an orderly room. In estimating the work of any term these things should be considered.

DISTRICT NO. 10.

Prudential committee, Alfred S. Robbins. Amount of money, $48.59. Fall term, 6 weeks, 10 scholars.

As usual, this school has been under the care of the Goffstown Superintending School Committee, except in the fall term. We find here a bright, lively set of scholars, calculated to try a teacher in many ways. The teacher, while possessing good educational qualifications, lacks the breadth of experience needed in so hard a place. Still we heard very good recitations from some classes.

DISTRICT NO. 11.

Prudential committee, David Dennison. Amount of money, $80.20. Summer term, 8 weeks, 7 scholars; winter term, 12 weeks, 12 scholars.

The summer term showed interest and progress in all classes heard, revealing a good degree of ability in the teacher, and coöperation on the part of scholars.

The teacher of the winter term was a lady of very superior mental attainments, and spared no pains to make her work successful. The school passed a most successful examination, showing a clear and correct knowledge impossible under less careful training. There are some very promising scholars here.

DISTRICT NO. 12.

Prudential committee, S. L. Marden. Amount of money, $40.16. Summer term, 7 weeks, 6 scholars; fall term, 6.2 weeks, 9 scholars.

We found an interesting school, composed mostly of small scholars, and, in the summer, a young teacher, possessing many elements of success. Earnest, painstaking work was evident at examination, and also good results. Some classes appeared noticeably well.

Sickness prevented our attendance at the fall examination; but our knowledge of the exceptionally high qualifications of the teacher, together with her uniform success in the past, leaves no room to doubt that the term was a profitable one.

DISTRICT NO. 13.

Prudential committee, J. P. Todd. Amount of money $97.97. Summer term, 7 weeks, 9 scholars; winter term, 11 weeks, 12 scholars.

This school was under the care of a young lady of the district throughout the year, and was her first effort as a teacher.

The summer school was composed mostly of small scholars, though we found some advanced classes. Examination showed that excellent methods had been used, and the school carefully trained in studies, with good results.

The winter brought a number of larger scholars, forming more advanced classes, and greatly increasing the teacher's cares. It ranks among the hardest of our winter schools, as to amount of work, and needs an experienced teacher. Earnest work on the part of the teacher was plainly evident, and many of the classes appeared well. This teacher has many excellent ideas, and will excel, we think, in some departments of school work.

DISTRICT NO. 14.

Prudential committee, J. M. Waldo. Amount of money, $51.75. Winter term, 12 weeks, 4 scholars.

This school is the smallest one in town, and less likely to be interesting for that reason. The teacher was a conscientious worker, and the results achieved were satisfactory, we think, to those most concerned.

DISTRICT NO. 15.

Prudential committee, D.G. Smith. Amount of money, $67.77. Summer term, 7 weeks, 5 scholars; fall term, 6 weeks, 12 scholars; winter term, 10 weeks, 10 scholars.

The teacher of the summer term was a beginner, possessing high educational qualifications, and ambitious to excel. We found, in the main, a good term's work.

The fall term by the same teacher was a decided improvement on the summer, and reflected much credit on one so young. We believe this teacher will rank very high in the future.

The teacher of the winter was just the one for the place, doing a fine term's work in a difficult school. She was experienced, in every way well equipped, and had no thought but for the welfare of her school, while she gained to a remarkable degree the good-will and coöperation of her scholars, who gave her a handsome present at the close of the term. Great improvement was manifest, both in studies and in the general appearance of the school. Committees in want of a teacher for a difficult place will do well to secure this one.

DISTRICT NO. 16.

Prudential committee, N. J. Wilson. Amount of money, $108.51. Summer term, 10 weeks, 14 scholars; winter term, 9 weeks, 14 scholars.

The summer term was a pleasant one, and we found quite a good degree of progress. The examination exercises were gotten up with great care, showing much taste on the part of the teacher and older scholars.

The teacher of the winter term was young, and had no experience. She was willing to work, and did her best; but the results were not what we could wish, though some of the younger ones made good progress.

DISTRICT NO. 17.

This school has been under the care of the Weare superintendent as usual. At the time of closing our report we have received no answer to a letter of inquiry, and cannot report in detail. The amount of money received from this town by the school was $37.06.

REPORT OF TRUSTEES

OF THE

NEW BOSTON CEMETERY

FOR THE YEAR ENDING MARCH 1, 1885.

In rendering the annual report of the cemetery, we have but little to bring to your attention except the report of the superintendent, calling up to our minds once more those whose earthly forms have the past year found their resting-place in this sacred spot. Beyond the usual labor in the yard bestowed on family lots, there has been no change except the sale, last autumn, of the Robert Whipple buildings, to be moved from the grounds on or before May 20, 1885. After their removal, the grounds will be put in order to correspond with the rest of the cemetery, and to be available as may be wanted.

We notice continued improvement in care of lots and tasty and substantial monuments each year, and hope that every year will show an ever increasing interest to beautify and adorn these grounds. No time during the long continued drouth last season was there any lessening of the supply of water in the fountain.

Thankful that it has been a year of light mortality in our town, we abstain from extended remarks and submit the report of the superintendent.

New England Clergymen "tell the truth" about

Dr. Warren's Wild Cherry and Sarsaparilla Troches,

The best remedy ever discovered for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Croup, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Bronchial Catarrh, Whooping Cough, Canker, Asthma, and all Throat and Bronchial Affections and Consumption.

Worked Like a Charm.

The box of Dr. Warren's Wild Cherry and Sarsaparilla Troches has been received and tried with perfect satisfaction. I have used all the different kinds of Troches that have come to my notice in the last twenty-five years, having suffered from bronchial troubles during that period, and have settled down on Brown's as the most reliable and efficient. When yours arrived I was suffering from a very troublesome cough at night. I at once took Warren's; they worked like a charm, giving immediate relief. A friend of mine, one of the most prominent men in this place, was at my house last evening, but suffering from a severe attack of bronchitis, could hardly speak above a whisper, and had not slept for several nights. I gave him two Troches; he put one in his mouth, and took the other on retiring for the night. He has just called on me to know where he could obtain a supply of those Troches, saying he fell asleep five minutes after retiring, and slept without awakening until six o'clock in the morning. He is delighted with them. —REV. O. S. BUTLER, Georgetown, Mass.

Dr. Warren's Wild Cherry and Sarsaparilla Troches are for sale by druggists generally. Box sent by mail on receipt of 25 cents, by the proprietors,
